Implication of the Listing Rules

The Listing Rules, together with the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules (DGT Rules), form the regulatory framework for companies listed on the London Stock Exchange (LSE). The Listing Rules are contained in the Listing Rules Handbook (LRH) and are issued by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA). The DGT Rules are contained in the Disclosure Guidance and Transparency Rules Handbook (DGT Rules Handbook) and are issued by the FCA and the Department for Business, Enterprise and Regulatory Reform (BERR). The Listing Rules and the DGT Rules are designed to ensure that companies listed on the LSE are able to provide investors with the information they need to make informed decisions about whether to invest in the company.
